Geographic focus:

South Carolina

Accepts unsolicited requests: Yes

Notes:

The Sisters of Charity Foundation of South Carolina is a ministry of the Sisters of Charity of St. Augustine, which was instrumental in founding Providence Hospital in Columbia. The Foundation was established in 1997 as an element in the partnership between the Sisters of Charity of St. Augustine Health System and Columbia/HCA. The mission of the Foundation is to address the needs of the poor and undeserved in South Carolina. The Foundation is committed to efforts that help build a sustainable, healthy economy, promote educational success, support stronger families, and contribute to long-term community development. The Foundation offers four kinds of grants:

Good Samaritan Grants - These grants are up to $25,000 for one year and are given to help support organizations which assist the poor. Applications are due by the first Tuesday in March and the first Tuesday in September. For an application package contact the Foundation office.

Research and Development Grants - These grants are awarded to help in developing approaches to issues in which the Foundation has a particular interest. These grants help the foundation examine the causes of poverty and develop specific plans to deal with it. There is not set limit on the amount of funding. Applicants should provide the Foundation with a brief statement about their proposal activities.

Requests for Proposals/Invited Proposals - These are made by the Foundation to specific organizations requesting them to submit a grant application on a specific topic or issue. Requests for Proposals/Invited Proposals allow the foundation to address the causes of poverty in a strategic fashion. Currently, the "Fatherhood Initiative" grants fall into this category. They may be for as much as $120,000 a year for a possible three-year period.

Unsolicited Grants - Allows the Foundation to invite the thoughts and suggestions of other organizations for new and original ways of addressing poverty. Those with innovative concepts consistent with the mission of the Foundation should submit a 2 to 3 page letter describing specific goals, concepts, outcomes, and funding projects.
